

Utrecht University

Republics of Letters around the Globe

Non-European and understudied European transnational learned and literary commonalities

The ERC-funded research project SKILLNET (Sharing Knowledge in Learned and Literary Networks) invites you to a series of webinars. A string of historians will give presentations about early modern transnational learned communities in the Eurasian continent, shedding light on the essence of what constitutes a transnational scholarly and scientific community.

- FRIDAY 2 APRIL..... Jewish, Ottoman and Women's networks
- FRIDAY 16 APRIL.... Arabic and Japanese networks
- FRIDAY 23 APRIL.... Medieval, Iberian and Arabic networks
- FRIDAY 14 MAY Jewish and Central Asian networks
- FRIDAY 28 MAY Western Asiatic, women's and Timurid networks
- FRIDAY 4 JUNE Round Screen: what have we learned?

Speakers

Anna Beerens, Alex Bevilacqua, Evrim Binbaş, Wim Boot, Sonja Brentjes, Antonio Dávila Perez, Shmuel Feiner, Elisabet Göransson, Carol Pal, Helen Pfeifer, James Pickett, Irene van Renswoude, David Sclar, Vevian Zaki.

The webinars will be hosted on Zoom. All sessions will be held on Fridays 15:00-16:30 CEST. For the full programme see: <https://skillnet.nl/webinar-series>. Please register via skillnet@uu.nl by 12:00 CEST on the day before. You will subsequently receive invitations to all the other sessions.

Illustration: Portrait of a Young Indian Scholar by Mir Sayyid Ali, c.1550 (courtesy of Los Angeles County Museum of Art, California, USA)

Institutions for Open Societies

